SUSTAINABLE PRODUCTION AND NATURAL MATERIALS

The von Behren brand sets new quality standards. With our series „ROYAL“ series, we are creating a new bathroom culture made of high-quality real wood. „Pure nature“ find a way into your new bathroom and impresses with durability in a modern high-end design. The feeling of aesthetics and highest luxury is experienced with all senses.

MADE IN EUROPE

We attach great importance to local production and only in this way can we ensure the high quality of our products. Therefore we produce in Germany and Europe in pure manual labor. Short transportation distances, sustainable production and fair wages are very important for us. Since we manufacture ourselves, we know exactly what is in it and can offer this with a clear conscience.

HAPPINESS LIES IN THE DETAIL

Our natural wood furniture tells a story and is truly unique. Each of our bathroom designs are handcrafted in Germany with great attention to detail. Natural processing and sustainability are for us the cornerstones of a true bathroom design from the house of von Behren. Small things delight us in everyday life. The refinement of the details and the timeless design will delight you every day and make your bathroom your favorite place.

INNOVATION AND DESIGN

Through the creative exchange of our designers in the development of ideas, arise unique bathroom products that transcend the boundaries of luxury. At the same time we try to create the most creative atmosphere possible. It is also our goal to our products with smart features and offer the customer further advantages, which advantages that set us apart from the competition. In order to guarantee our quality, every piece of furniture that makes its way from the design stage to the finished product is sealed with its own „von Behren“ logo and is assigned a consecutive serial number.

ROYALstone

THE MATERIAL OF THE LUXURY CLASS.

ROYALstone is the new, modern, bright white material for thin walls and noble matt surface. Away from thick-walled, chunky, shiny, bacon-like ceramics or acrylics (plastic), ROYALstone sets a new high-quality design trend.

ROYALstone is solid material (aluminum trihydrate) instead of conventional mineral casting (calcium carbonate), which is sprayed with a „varnish“ (gelcoat) sprayed over it. Our ROYALstone is about 10 times more expensive than calcium carbonate, but much more robust, whiter and of better quality.

You can compare the materials, such as real wood and veneered chipboard. If there is, for example, a dent, you can simply sand out the damage simply grind out of our material, as from real wood real wood, because it is completely made of bright white ROYALstone. Mineral casting is gray inside and usually full of pores.

LUXURY BATH DESIGN

WILHELM

The indescribably beautiful bay on the beach of Gesso is a deserted spot in the paradise. The Italian sun beams down on the azure, crystal clear sea and the white fine sand is carried by the gentle waves to the cliffs towering in the background. In nature with green bushes and trees, you can enjoy every second of pure relaxation.

Our bathtub WILHELM was inspired by this place. Its calm, elliptical shape shape invites you to relax and dream. The tapered ends and wide back offer plenty of space and a well-balanced lying surface. Its thin-walled shape with a clear edge is modern and majestic at the same time. The clear shape, sleek and smooth, gives any room a design element in a class of its own. The shape is timeless and dreamlike, like the beach of Gesso.

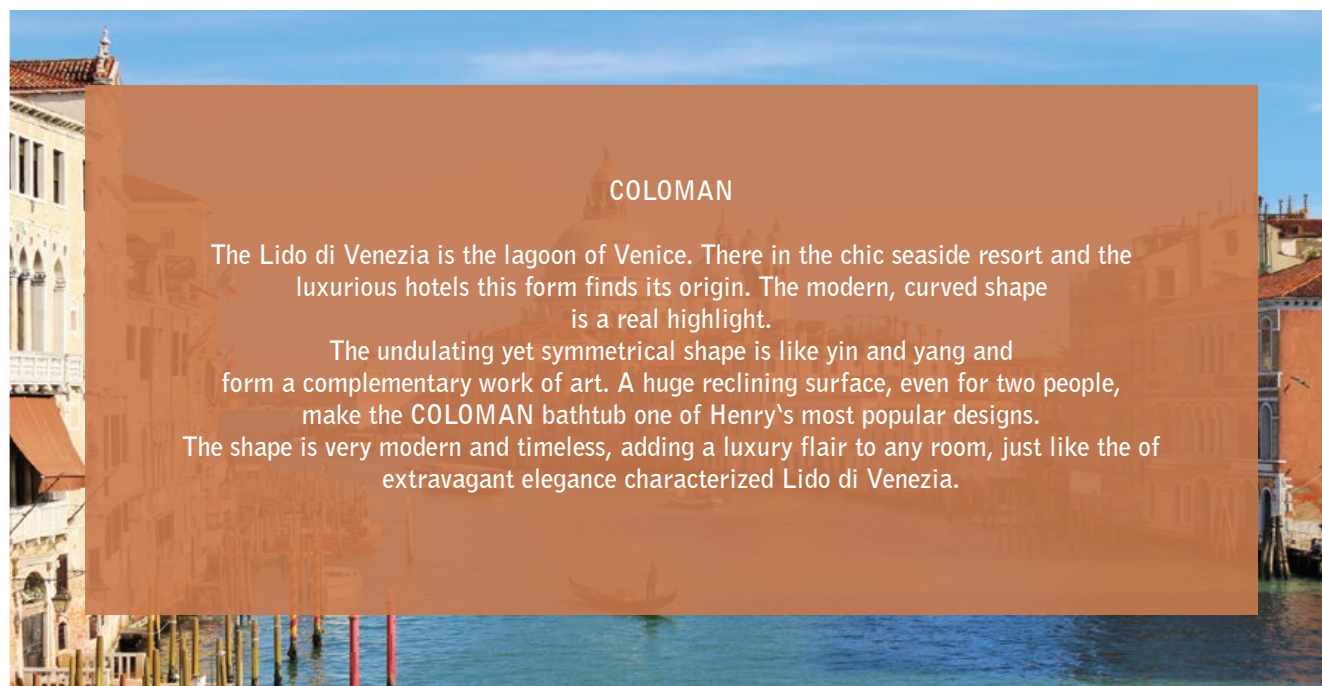

COLOMAN

Freestanding bathtub

1700 x 1100 x 620 mm / ca. 155 kg

COLOMAN

The Lido di Venezia is the lagoon of Venice. There in the chic seaside resort and the luxurious hotels this form finds its origin. The modern, curved shape is a real highlight.

The undulating yet symmetrical shape is like yin and yang and form a complementary work of art. A huge reclining surface, even for two people, make the COLOMAN bathtub one of Henry's most popular designs. The shape is very modern and timeless, adding a luxury flair to any room, just like the of extravagant elegance characterized Lido di Venezia.
